Answer

MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE AND FARMERS WELFARE

???? ??? ????? ?????? ???????? ??? ????? ?????? (SHRI MOHANBHAI KUNDARIYA)

(a): Government of India is implementing Rashtriya Krishi Vikas Yojana (RKVY) from 2007-08 to incentivize states to increase public investment in agriculture and allied sectors to achieve and sustain desired annual growth by ensuring holistic development in these sectors. Under the scheme Government of India do not fix any specific target for the states, rather give complete autonomy to states to choose projects for implementation under the scheme as per their needs, technical capabilities and agro-climatic conditions for achieving desired growth. The State Agriculture Department is the nodal Department for implementation of the scheme in the State.

(b): States have undertaken projects related to various sectors such as crop development, horticulture, agricultural mechanization, marketing & post-harvest management, animal husbandry, dairy development, fisheries etc.under the scheme. Since RKVY is a project based scheme, the beneficiaries of the scheme are indivisible. Sector- wise projects approved by the states under RKVY during last three years is at annexure −I.

(c): The state-wise fund allocation, release and utilization reported by the states, including Odisha, Punjab and Rajasthan, during last three years under the scheme is at annexure-II.

(d): A web-based Management Information System for RKVY [Relational Database and Management Information System (RDMIS)] has been established for monitoring progress of RKVY projects. States are mandated to enter data on status of project implementation under RKVY online on this website.
